More of Those GENUINE FLORIDA YAMS

Catwood, Tenn., April 18, 1916.
Messrs. C. R. Clark Co.,
Hopkinsville, Ky.

Dear Sirs:-

To-day I am shipping you 10 Bbls. Potatoes, 5 eating and 5 seed, GENUINE FLORIDA YAMS.

I wish to call your special attention to this potato, for the benefit of your trade. This potato will grow on most any kind of soil, even thin land, or soils, also it is one of the best keeping potatoes on the market, grows medium in size and very firm in texture. For table use it cannot be excelled for any use required. It has been known to make above 200 Bu. per acre. You can sell this potato and recommend it to the top and stand behind it. I am very glad to have you get some of the seed. When you once get this potato started it is hard to sell anything else. When these potatoes arrive it will be a good idea for you to have the cover removed in order that they may get plenty of air, etc., as it will make same keep better. I will ask that you give me your orders at least 3 days before you need same as we are now rushed to death packing out. I would not be surprised to see potatoes much higher in a few days. Notice that Chicago has advanced 25c per Bu. Market active and strong. Give me your order not later than the first of next week, or the latter part of this, to be shipped out next week and I think I can save you in price.

Most respectfully,

A. B. Bryant.

RANGERS

Carry Two and a Half Pound Telephone.

Washington, April 18.—A portable telephone, made of aluminum and weighing 2½ pounds, the invention of a Forest officer, R. B. Adams, of Missoula, Montana, will be a part of the regular equipment of patrolmen on the National Forests the coming season. This instrument is regarded as a great improvement over the set formerly used, which weighed ten pounds.

It is said that a field man equipped with this telephone, a few yards of light emergency wire, and a short piece of heavy wire to make the ground connection can cut in anywhere along the more than 20,000 miles of Forest Service telephone lines and get in touch with the headquarters of a supervisor or district ranger. To talk, one end of the emergency wire is thrown over the telephone line, the two ends are connected to the portable instrument, and the instrument is connected to the ground wire, the end of which must be thrust into the damp earth or in water. Contact with the line wire is made possible by removal of the insulation from a few inches of the emergency wire.

The Adams instrument does not ring the bell of the receiving telephone, but instead causes a screeching sound from a small megaphone-shaped apparatus descriptively known as a "howler." This instrument is installed at the range station telephone and is said to effective notice that some one is on the line. If the field man needs to talk with some one elsewhere on the line, the ranger station instrument can be used to ring up the person wanted, when the conversation can be carried on.

Forest officers say that these portable phones are especially valuable in reporting fires and other emergencies with the least possible delay, and also in sending instructions to field men and keeping the district rangers informed as to the progress of work going on in the field, thus supplementing the regular telephone sets installed at lookout points, ranger stations, and at convenient intervals along Forest Service roads and trails.

PURELY PERSONAL.

Jas. M. Green, of Dallas, Tex., arrived in the city Tuesday on a visit to his relatives.

John H. Bell returned home Monday night after a lengthy visit to North Carolina.

Mr. and Mrs. Anderson, of Charlottesville, Va., are visiting their son, Rev. A. S. Anderson.

Mrs. Helen Landis, of Lexington, Va., a daughter of Hon. Frank T. Glasgow, arrived last night with her little daughter, Mary, on a visit to Mrs. John R. Green. Her father was here last summer in attendance upon the meeting of the Ferrell's Boys and renewed acquaintances of nearly 40 years ago. When a mere youth he was an assistant teacher in Maj. Ferrell's school and is greatly beloved by the older "Boys" whom he taught. His former pupils will be glad of the opportunity to meet the daughter of their teacher of the old days.

Judge J. T. Hanbery, of Hopkinsville, Ky., who has been a patient at the Evansville sanitarium for several days, is improving.—Evansville Courier.

News by telephone from Evansville yesterday was most reassuring. The distinguished patient was reported as doing nicely.

Misses Jessamine and Beatrice Mosayon, of Louisville, are guests of their aunt, Mrs. M. L. Elb.

Rev. Thomas Chapman, who recently accepted the superintendency of the Universalist churches of this state, arrived here from De Funiak Springs, Fla., Tuesday night, accompanied by his family, and they will reside on North Main street. Dr. Chapman will preach at Crofton next Sunday. He will hold his first services in the Universalist church in this city the first Sunday in May.

Detecting Presence of Alcohol.

A device consisting mainly of four Welsbach lamps has been made use of by a western physician for the purpose of demonstrating the amount of alcohol in samples of various medicines.

When a Serbian wants to say "yes" he shakes his head, and when he means "no," he nods.
